

Real People and Reality

These are real people with real destiny
albeit different fates.

Real People and Reality

Once in a lifetime
you find a friend
who touches not only your heart
but also your soul

Once in a lifetime
you discover someone
who stands beside you,
not over you.

Once in a lifetime
if you are lucky
you find someone
as I have found you.

Very special people
we can be ourselves with,
talk with, laugh with,
hope with and believe with...

What is reality?

Reality is factual truth, a little something that we share and grow spiritually in our awareness and in our consciousness so that we come together on a common platform to exchange, to regard and to review divinity, or knowledge, or reality or call it “some interesting knowledge or fact”. As long as it is something from which our enthusiasm enhances to all together realise that yesterdays are bygones and we cannot do anything to alter the historical bygones. Tomorrow shall be finally in the hands of REALITY the supreme God. Today is the only day, now is the only moment we all have each one of us to share with each other. That is what we are exactly doing by getting together on a platform – we are communicating; we are graciously exchanging information; some useful, others more enlightening, and yet others divinely interesting.

Let us all together rejoice “today”! Our enthusiasm and motivation and encouragement and more importantly our self-respect towards one another has enabled www.pattniconnection.com to thrive towards ‘Today’ a moment to cherish in victorious glory of friendship, compassion, love and humanity through a common platform of a website. Relishing this reality gives me great pleasure and immense joy to be glad to be part of this beautiful reality in my writings and whatsoever I could contribute towards the grandeur of www.pattniconnection.com

So stop pacing the aisles and counting the miles. Instead; let us swim more rivers, climb more mountains, run more marathons; dance to more music, play more melodies of love; kiss more babies, count more stars; give more; grant our shoulders to the older without making them feel helpless; let us all together give our best better than best in the little real ways we can in the subtle little ways we can to one another without making each other aware of the fact that we care, we are divinely inter-related, inter-connected and co-related.

Let us laugh more and cry less. Let us all together go barefoot more often. Let us make one another feel good about each other and let us be there for one another to listen and to guide without envy, jealousy, greed, selfishness and anger.

Oh reality is when we let go of our barriers and become child-like, to play more, to eat more ice creams; to ride more merry-go-rounds. Reality is to watch more sunsets and let go of all the noise and haste and all this that and the other. Oh reality is about life of life itself and the real people in our lives. Let us therefore cherish our lives. Let us pray together that Life must be lived as we go along without humps on the faces and without creases on the foreheads. Laughing more means reality.

Reality implies that we share common truth which is unquestionable nor without a dual meaning the actual fact or the universally accepted factual truth. Therefore, “Reality” means universal truth based on universal consciousness. We come together by grace of God Supreme. We meet to create some most wonderful realities of life – some beautiful truths.

To spread our wings and to spread our light across the universe to spread Divinity is to spread gesture of goodwill good intention, good knowledge, wisdom based on experience and healing based on compassion and humanity.

Real people are people who are comfortable with their own truth. They love their own uniqueness. They do their own things, with no need to apologize for being what they are. Yet they are always becoming more than they are.

Real people stand just as tall as they ought to be, no more or no less, neither walking on tiptoe nor hanging their heads. They ask only to be taken for exactly what they are. Nor do they make other people feel that they are expected to be ten feet tall in a world where all are stunted by their own fears.

Real people have their daydreams, like all normal strivers. But they don't wallow in them. They accept their limitations and are content with achievement goals. They pick their goals with some advertence to the talent at hand. Escapism is a moderate diversion in their way of life.

Flight from effort or from involvement with others
is not a routine survival tactic for real people.

Real people are prone to be hurt; at least a little.
They care enough for other people's love to feel the hurt of being ignored, misunderstood or rejected.

And their own experience of hurt makes them sensitive to other people's pain. Real people aren't hard to talk to. They invite communicativeness
because somehow or other, they make everybody feel their kinship with the human heart. Wherever you are, in loneliness, bitterness, shyness, or fright, they have a way of making you feel they have been there ahead of you. Consequently, they care. Real people are like a pair of protective hands over the shoulders of a child. They are quick with laughter;
they are not ashamed of tears; they are comfortable
to be with because they let you know who they are.

*The burden of "today" is a great joy and reality
worth relishing with you all now in delight!
Tomorrow may or may not be. Live for today! Live for this moment! Live to love! Love to last!*

Inspiration Is a Fragile Thing; just a breeze, touching the hot air balloon, to safely land on the green foliage of a city park. It's like the whispering winds as if just a whisper from the soul of a friend pushing us swiftly; just a line of verse clipped from some book. Inspiration...
Who can say where it is born, and why it leaves us?
Who can tell the reasons for its being or not being?
Only this... I can think inspiration comes from the Heart of Heaven...To give the lift of wings, and the breath of divine music to those of us who are earthbound. Love.

Today August 8th 2007, would have been the birthday of our beloved Brother Dr. Bharat Kaku Pattni.

The reality is a truth. Truth is that there is a whisper from the spiritual world to our human world. It becomes inspiration when we listen to the soft gracious vibes of the spiritual world that is in constant communion with our world at the dawn and the dusk.

To the grandeur of www.pattniconnection.com

And its gallant glory of being a website that promotes dharma, togetherness, information and brings together Pattni's across the Globe!

Jaya Ambe Maa!

*Love and Divine regards to each and every Pattni
across the Globe....*
