

Aum Hrim Shrim Ganeshaya namaha

I know that the passage of my lifetime pilgrimage is long and that I shall pursue my voyage through the wilderness of worlds leaving behind a trail of beauty so that the gleam of first light leads a seeker towards delight...

Be yourself

Our true individuality reflects our greatest gifts. To our higher divine soul that which verily is GOD, remain truthful. To be truthfully sincere to one's soul divine brings an understanding that is spiritually strong, courageous, and calm. In Vedic philosophy, this is the realisation of sorrow (misery). Taking the risk in trying new ways, adventuring different ways are but the only way to find a course more appropriate. It is almost like the river finding its true course eventually without a grand maestro. 'Let me make mistakes so that I can see who it is I want to be eventually. Let me be who I am, what I am, wherever I am without the pretences' of pleasing others. Life oh Life! Let it be a festival of lights! Let it be an adventure of joys and laughter's. Let all the burdens of pain disappear; let all the grief of hurt dissolve. One moment at a time. Just one moment, this present moment in time, laugh, live, enjoy, and cherish the gift of love.

*Time flies fast...
As the flight of the swans, we have to steer our life's course whatever the calling purpose is.*

A photograph of two white swans swimming in a pond. The scene is framed by a large, dark, arched opening, possibly a tunnel or a bridge. The water is dark and reflects the swans. The sky is a pale, overcast grey. The text is overlaid on the lower half of the image in a yellow, cursive font.

Oh life! Now my days are not without a care filled with awareness, my nights are without a want and a grief, quiet. All things girdle my life, yet the spirit of my life takes a lofty flight of delight with its wings that no one dare crush. Unbound, at last I am, free indeed I shall be from the burdens of relationships for when I go back to the spiritual dwellings, death cannot remove from you and me the spirit of life, the spiritual soul, the soul divine.

For what it is death can stare in our face and we shall not even notice it for love shall melt away all our fears into the beautiful grand ocean. Sunwards our kiss shall turn into a silent night of dreams.

This is my delight, my heart is glad within and the breath of the passing breeze so refreshingly sweet. Here and now let me smile and sing all alone waiting for my precious one, not knowing from what distant time my precious is coming nearer to me. This is the moment of my life I have waited dusk after dawns, alone gazing at the nightingale. Let all my songs gather together like a flock of swans to welcome my precious Godson! He returns home after so many silent nights!
A cheeky smile knocks at my doors!

No one supreme wise counsel can direct the course of love, for love alone is worth directing the course of our lives. When love beckons, whatever our destiny our course in life shall follow a trail of beauty beyond the metamorphosis of words. Shiva is that love divine compassion.

Aum namah Shivaya

Our daily life is our dharma. Our routines, our thoughts, our attitudes form the basis of dharma – that which is the essence of sanatana dharma the universal religion of humanity.

- Our life, the reality of life itself is an offspring of spiritual affinity and unless that affinity is created in moments of beauty and love of the soul divine unveiled it will not create many generations of youth!
- Love and beauty is all we need in life all else matters lesser.

The song of love that makes the heart caper is the purest sweetest voice from the higher order. Its like a flower of friendship without any purpose

We struggle so hard to find a life or meaning to it outwardly into variety of arenas. Unaware that the life of life is deep within our soul divine in the light of unlimited love and compassion.

On Marriage:

Love one another, but make not the bond of love that does not move - Let it be a moving sea that capers to the currents of seasons and tides between the shores of your soul divine spirit of life! Ha!
Laugh at the most Poseidon moment albeit others may think you are crazy! It is better in laughters to remain young and youthful than to loose years of beauty in dismal sadness! When you laugh for no apparent reason but just laugh you will see others laugh too!

Give your hearts to one another; but not into each others keeping or possession!

For only the hand of life can contain your hearts. And stand together yet not too near together: for the pillars of the temple stand apart, sometimes it is necessary to grant that space to one another such that the temple the shrine of your marriage can stand on its feet.....alone....without any support or outside influence.

Let the love of your hearts blossom: but let the love of your longing never become each others shadows...

The power of love is God's greatest gift to humankind

Life oh life! Let it be!

Love gives naught but itself and takes naught but from itself. Love possesses not nor would it be possessed; for love is sufficient unto love and the life of love is filled with trail of beauty. Life oh life!
Let it be a trail of beauty....

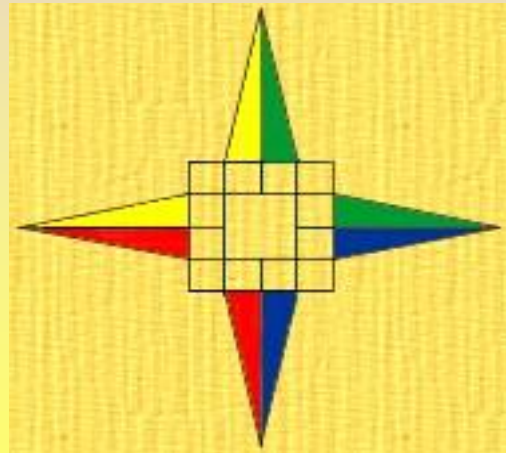

That was my dream, but that kept me alive. The sweet footsteps of the dancing trinkets capering to the song of Shiva's divinity and the music of the mystical dream world kept my heart's desire alive amidst most traumatic and difficult adversities. Without the consolation of the spiritual friendship of Shiva, I would long have become a cucumber rotting in the earthen clay. Silence is one of the mysteries of life, that opens our hearts to divine love. Just as well I do NOT depend upon mankind to make me happy.

Karma and astrology

Mankind struggle all life, possessing and controlling, trying to make oneself important and significant, demeaning lesser persons.

The world owes us a happy living yes but the living is not in the growth of hatred, wars, anger, personal greed, egotism, stubbornness, envy, personal judgements and possessions but in making another human being feel loved. It is the longing to belong that makes the happy living. When we deprive that compassion to another, we too in return will be deprived of the compassionate consolation when we need it the most, no astrologer can help us!

All said and done, a Vedic Astrologer can seldom predict the events like earthquakes, tragedies and global epiphany until after it has manifested. Vedic Astrology is a science, and evaluates collective human life karma but KARMA overlooks astrology and astrological interpretations. Doing righteous karma, we can change the course of our lives and fate. To die is but every human destiny that cannot be changed.

From experience, I have come to a conclusion that the appearance of everything and everybody changes according to the emotions and feelings we have. Thus, we see an elixir of delight and beauty in those that give light of inspiration to others when really that same light of beauty has been untapped by our own emotions and feelings. To arouse our inner most feelings therefore is significant to remaining young and healthy and affectionate. To give and to give and to give our affection without any expectations whatsoever does not diminish us in our own feelings but makes us blossom more like a flower that attracts bees and butterflies to the pollen.

If we remove the various “-ism”, we realise that we are children of one universal faith - the faith of believing, the faith of loving one another, the faith of nurturing integrity and self-respect, the faith of goodwill and humanity, the faith of extending to others, the faith of offering completeness and truthfulness of spirit to others, the faith of eagerness and open minded. Collectively, we are all driving our spiritual vehicle in diverse paths and roads; ultimately we meet together in destiny whatever you call it! The fuss of mine and yours is only a transitory transient differentiation that diffuses in time and perishes away! The kingdom of Godhead is to be realised here and now, not in the life to come. Everything about this creation is succinctly beautiful and divinely.

Everything on earth lives in accordance with the laws of nature. The divine laws of nature are verily governed by the higher order and upon which mankind have no control just as life and death, sunsets and sunrises, nights and days, dusk and dawn, the perfection of the entire galaxy is governed by the laws of divinity from whose light we came to existence and towards which light we evolve spiritually. Aum Tat Sat.
